
Extra Credit for the month of November 2008

Due Monday, November 24, 2008

THIS ... IS ... JEOPARDY!

Do some research and find the answers to each question using the clues below. You will earn the dollar value listed for correct responses. You will have the listed dollar value subtracted from your total for incorrect responses. You may make your own wager for Final Jeopardy; however that wager may not be for more than you actually earned. You will receive 1 extra credit point for every $1000 you earn in correct responses.

For example, if you earn $900 in Round 1 and $1800 in Round 2 you may wager $2700 in Final Jeopardy; a correct final response would bring your total to $5400 (and 5.4 extra credit points), whereas an incorrect response would bring your total to $0 (and 0 extra credit points), SO BET WISELY!

Jeopardy! – WOMEN AUTHORS

Value	Clue	Your Response
$100	In "The Janeites", a story by Rudyard Kipling, a group of soldiers have a deep admiration for this author
$200	There was a lot of buzz over Sue Monk Kidd's debut novel, "The Secret Life of" these
$300	More than 20 of her novels, including "Zoya" & "Jewels", have been adapted for TV or film
$400	This author who battled Alzheimer's in her final years was the subject of the movie "Iris"
$500	She won a Pulitzer for "The Shipping News" & also wrote the short story "Brokeback Mountain"

Double Jeopardy! – 2007 NATIONAL SPELLING BEE WORDS

Value	Clue	Your Response
$200	Your largest one is the gluteus maximus
$400	It's French for butterfly
$600	It's an Italian appetizer of toasted bread, garlic & olive oil, often topped with chopped tomatoes
$800	The first Grand Inquisitor of Spain was the notorious Tomas de...
$1000	With this word, we assume they meant a shutout in gin rummy & not the super on "One Day at a Time"

Final Jeopardy! – ENGLISH LANGUAGE WRITERS

Your Wager	Clue	Your Response
$_____	In his journal of 1710 to 1713, he referred to himself as "Presto"

SCORING:

Jeopardy _____

Double Jeopardy _____

Final Jeopardy _____

Divided by 1000 _____ points earned